Rules

1. Eligibility follows the employing or enrolling institution, not the passport. A Nigerian national employed by a UK university pays the standard rate; a British national employed by a Nigerian university pays the reduced rate. The delegate selection choice is verified by checking institutional affiliation.
2. One discount only. A delegate qualifies for the reduced-country rate (listed rate), or the student rate, or the combined reduced-country student rate (listed student rate). Discounts do not stack beyond published tiers.
3. Student status requires proof of registration (such as a letter from a supervisor or registrar) to be uploaded during registration.

4. The list is fixed at the World Bank FY2027 edition for the whole registration period and will not change.
5. Applications are assessed at the point of registration by the organising committee and the committee's decision on eligibility is final.
